Please supply copy via email in a plain text format and images in jpg, png or pdf with 300 dpi. Please send any submissions for the May 2020 magazine by 15th April 2020. Submissions will only be acknowledged if requested and this may take up to a week.

From the Editor

Thank you for those who responded to my request for information on Neighbourhood Watch. I have shared the information later in the magazine and also asked for volunteers to fill the “gaps” in coverage!

Due to the Coronavirus outbreak and increasingly stringent government measures to reduce the rate of spread of the disease most if not all events and regular gatherings are cancelled.

Please check with the organiser if the event or club is still going ahead, even if it is advertised in this magazine.

During these challenging times it is heartwarming to see the offers of help, both those published in this magazine and those made on online platforms such as nextdoor.co.uk which has an active membership from Comberton.

Whether you need some shopping delivering, a lift to an essential appointment or simply someone to talk to there is help available within our community.

Wishing you good health and hope for a return to normal life soon.

Coronavirus Community Care

As we live through these strange times, we wanted to ensure that no one feels they are living through them alone. Many in our community are already stepping up to help neighbours and friends. But if you feel alone and in need of help then please do get in touch. Maybe you need someone to talk to over the phone; or you need help getting your shopping; or you are in particular financial hardship. If so, then please don't face this situation alone, but call on the community...

The same website also shows location of recent crimes:

Notice that the majority of these occurred in the Southern part of the village which is not covered by Neighbourhood Watch Schemes. Of course, this might be a coincidence, but

Is there anyone in South Street, Swaynes Lane and Barrons Way who might be willing to act as a coordinator for these areas?

These difficult times might provide an ideal opportunity for us to coordinate as a community and provide additional peace of mind for the isolated and vulnerable.

Warning - Toxic Mould

My six year old West Highland White Terrier was close to death recently. We don't know how or where she found something mouldy to eat but she did and very soon was violently sick four times, her legs buckled and she started fitting.

I rushed her to Ash Croft Veterinary Surgery where they admitted her immediately. On my return home the vet rang me to say they couldn't stop her fitting and wanted to take her up to the Queen's Small Animal Veterinary Hospital off Madingley Road. She was admitted there and, they managed to stop her fitting. The vets there kept her in for 2 nights and they were able to start her recovery.

We are so lucky to have such superb local vets and the Vet School facilities and expertise on our doorstep. After three days I was able to bring her home for TLC and convalescence. Gradually she has become her old self with no after effects but it took two weeks.

The vets said that compost heaps and discarded food and packaging are the most common source of toxic mould poisoning. PLEASE protect your canine friends from being as ill as Meg was or worse.

All the compost in my garden is contained in bins with lids or covers. I keep a few garden pesticides on a high shelf in the potting shed. We have combed the garden but could find no source. I can only guess that it must have been bread pushed off the bird table by our marauding squirrel but I can only guess. Beware - mouldy food is a canine killer.

Community and Corona

I write this in Mid-March, and so do not know how the situation will have developed between now and when this magazine hits your doorstep. But given the way in which Coronavirus is now constantly top of our new bulletins, the way in which it has become the first conversation over coffee, and is at the forefront of most of our minds, I felt like a letter of this kind needed to speak into the situation.

Not to offer glib solace or false comfort as if I could discern the future, but instead to help us pause. Oddly enough my role as a 'vicar' often seems to be about creating moments of pause in a frenetic world.

Pausing for a moment to question ourselves and our common responses to Corona might enable us to find resources within and without to meet the challenge of these days.

To pause and question ourselves and our own anxieties and fears, might just open us up enough to discover something deeper than our worries – a Presence that holds us in Love. To discover that depth of life beneath us does not get rid of anxiety and fear, but it puts such fear into a wider frame of reference that might help us walk through such times.

To pause and question our common response as a community and a nation, might – just might – help us take stock of our moral life at this time. For this virus has called us to think about hygiene and isolation not so much for ourselves but for the sake of others. This moment in our national (and global) life forces us to think about whether our actions are orientated solely around 'self' or around friends, neighbours and strangers. And we might – just might – be surprised at the generosity and altruism we find.

Meridian Primary School

Learning for life – striving for excellence

Greetings Neighbours,

Meridian Primary has had an enjoyable few weeks at school after the February half term.

We have had two visiting assemblies: a special NSPCC assembly on the theme of 'Speak out. Stay safe.' The children were very engaged and reflective and the representatives praised the children in all groups for their maturity on this topic. Cambridge United also visited us and delivered an assembly about 'kicking out discrimination against any groups of people'. The children listened well with interest and asked many pertinent questions.

Our Y1/2 class delivered a wonderful sharing assembly – they obviously had so much fun preparing and sharing their Great Fire of London topic with their parents, carers and the whole school.

On World Book Day, we had a lovely day focussing on the enjoyment of reading and listening to stories around the school. Children (and staff) dressed up and we had a very colourful assembly with some children sharing their character from their favourite book. All classes were given a new reading book for their class shelves and every child went home with a book token which they can use as part payment for a new book.

In sport, some of our Y5 and Y6 children attended a Quick Sticks Hockey tournament at CVC. They worked really well with a good team spirit and improved on their skills with each match played.

Y5 also choreographed a dance with an animal theme to some music and they performed well in front of a large audience at CVC.

As all schools will be closed from Monday 23rd March until further notice, the majority of our children will be at home for what could be a considerable period of time. Onsite care will continue to be provided for a limited number of children. All children have been provided with a collection of projects and home learning packs to work on at home and staff will be on hand to answer any questions and provide feedback online.

East Anglian Air Ambulance

East Anglian Air Ambulance continues to do sterling work both in the air and on the ground, by virtue of their ability to quickly arrive on scene, saving lives.

The service is also involved in many additional aspects of medical care and support. One such area is safeguarding children and young people from abuse. Abuse can be an act of commission or of omission – it can happen once or be repeated. There are many types of abuse each of which can have lasting effects upon children's Mental Health, Behaviour, Education, Relationships and potentially promote Self Harm, Drug, Alcohol and Substance misuse. Indicators of abuse include – Unexplained injuries, Inappropriate behaviour, Dirty/Unkempt, Underweight/Overweight, Withdrawn, Isolated.

EAAA now produces an explanatory leaflet covering this subject. It includes points to look out for and notes on how people in the community might help in terms of responding directly to a child, minimising risk and Child Safeguarding Legislation.

For more information and copies of the 'Volunteer – Safeguarding children and young people' booklet, please contact East Anglian Air Ambulance on 0345 66 9999 – also

Thank you to all our supporters across the four counties.
